However, thankfully the update does include a handful of new vehicles, most of them being from the Waw Street range of cars, which are frequently the least expensive vehicles in the game. Many players are excited at the prospect of driving a Waw Street vehicle, and it is rumored that in the future players will be able to buy them online rather than having them delivered to their homes via courier, which would certainly be a more convenient experience. The biggest addition to the game is the Waw Street range of sports cars. There are currently ten vehicles available in this range, and they include a hybrid sports car, a sedan, and a convertible, as well as a recent addition to the range, the Fiat 500X.
