This is a universal on-screen keyboard designed for use with all Mac notebooks, desktops and more. While other Mac keyboard apps are great, they are not practical when you want to use your Mac on a different monitor, computer or even another Mac. This keyboard app for Mac has you covered! KEYMACRO Keyboard is free to use and has a number of different keyboard layouts you can use depending on your preference. You can also make your own layouts using the samples provided. This is a great alternative to the built-in keyboard that comes on Mac notebooks. Keyboard layouts: - QWERTY - Dvorak - Colemak - Planck - Ergodox Features: - Look and feel is just like Apple's built-in keyboard - Customizable keyboard layouts - Multiple layouts - Various modifiers and characters for increased productivity - Shortcut keys - Macros - File handlers (i.e. works with Finder) - Redesigned characters and symbols - Hotkeys (more below) - System Preferences - Improved stability and performance - Improved touch and gesture support - Customizable keyboard layouts Let's face it, keyboards are cumbersome and sometimes tricky to use. Sometimes you end up typing in the wrong way, and other times you can't type at all. Keyboard layouts on your Mac are typically only designed for one monitor at a time, so you can't use them on multiple monitors. Keyboard layouts for MacBooks are practically nonexistent, so it's difficult to type comfortably with other layouts and devices at the same time. This is where KEYMACRO comes in. The app offers a wide variety of layouts that make typing more enjoyable and more productive. In fact, it can make typing on your MacBook a pleasure. There are about 50 different layouts available, from QWERTY to the popular Colemak and Ergodox keyboards. If you don't see a layout you like, you can add your own custom layout and the app supports layers. There's a modifier key for each modifier key (shift, option, control), and you can choose whether to add these to the currently selected layout or make them global so that you can use them on every layout. The Layouts in Keyboard are more or less: - Dvorak - Colemak - Planck - Ergodox - QWERTY -... You can add and remove layouts quickly and easily in the KEYMAC 2edc1e01e8

In this post, we look at how to link a text editor and clipboard manager to make sure you never forget to copy and paste anything important from your files. Prefer a text editor? There are a number of apps that have become quite popular among computer users over the years, one of which is a free text editor called "Notepad++". It can be used to edit and view text files as well as create them from scratch. This app can be downloaded from its official website, but you can also find it on the Google Play Store. Notepad++ has a simple yet powerful user interface with loads of features and it is available in several languages. Tinkering with your text editor To get started, launch Notepad++ and click on its menu icon. From there, click on "Edit", then select "Preferences". Here, you can change some aspects of Notepad++, such as its colors and fonts, or even choose a location to store text files. Most text editors will have similar options, so you can use Notepad++ as a template. Once done, click on "OK". If you need to add some text, you can do so by simply typing into Notepad++ or opening a new file by clicking on the "New" icon. It is easy to create a text file, so you can use it to share text with friends, family and colleagues. Keep track of important text snippets Notepad++ is good for managing text snippets, and you can use it for this purpose by right-clicking in a blank area of the app and then clicking "Mark". To display your notes, click on the "Mark all" icon. You can also save your snippets using the "Add" button or, when you are done, hit "Undo" to roll back changes. You can then copy and paste your notes whenever you need to. For example, you can save a web address or phone number in Notepad++ and then copy the text for later use. To do this, right-click in a blank area and then clicking on "Mark"
